'30 Years After Black Hawk Down'

11 Rabi'u Thani 1445 H (26 October 2023) – 30 years after the Battle of Mogadishu and continued U.S. persecution, the Muslims of Somalia and their Mujahideen sons continue to remain steadfast in their Jihad against the American crusaders. It was three decades ago, this month, when the Mujahideen and the Muslims of Somalia, by the grace of Allaah, dragged the corpses of the American crusaders through the streets of Mogadishu, killing more than 80 soldiers and shooting down three U.S. black hawk helicopters.

These historic events despite displaying to the world the level of cowardice and frailty of the American crusaders, have on the other hand been subject to distortions and inaccuracies, deceptively portraying the American crusaders as an altruistic and courageous force in Somalia. In light of these events and in attempt to accurately relay the American crusaders invasion and subsequent defeat in Somalia, Al-Kataib Foundation for Media Productions will soon release an hour-long documentary conveying the factual accounts of the 1993 Battle of Mogadishu, America's oppression of Muslims in Somalia, and the role of the Muslims in subduing the might of the so-called superpower of the world.
